

THE RADAR NOW!

From left: Weil Bee-ings honey; Borba Gummi Boosters; and gloss by DuWop and Fuze

SKIN DEEPER

Smear on all the lotions and potions you want, but the new trend in cosmetics is working from the inside out. Three companies have jumped on the beauty bandwagon with collections to feed both your skin and palate.

THE BUZZ Spread it on a slice of sourdough or suck it straight off the spoon. Origins and Dr. Andrew Weil created Weil Bee-ings Organic Health Support Honey that packs the antioxidant powers of pure bee product into three dissolvable supplements. Weil-Beeings Organic Manuka Honey from New Zealand works on the defenses; Organic Kamahi Honey aids digestion; and Weil-Beeings Organic Clover Honey boosts energy. $22.50 for a 16.8-ounce jar. Available at Origins locations or www.origins.com.

I WANT CANDY Pop in a fat free and vegetarian Borba Skin Balance Gummi Booster daily and this yummy confection—full of bio-vitamin complexes, açai and green tea extract—claims to keep pores clear and make your skin glow from the inside out ($25 for a pack of 136). Also check out Borba's Drinkable Skin Balance Waters and Aqua-less Crystalline packets that nourish your skin as you hydrate it. ($28 for 14). www.borba.net.

TOP GLOSSES We love the idea of a lip gloss with zero calories that curbs your appetite and boosts energy—especially after all those years we spent smearing on gloss for color only. Too Faced Fuze Slenderize Guilt Free Gloss gives you a shiny, luscious, I-couldn't-eat-another-thing pout. Or go for total mind-body-lip control with Elixrstix's four shiners—Clarity, Energy, Harmony and Serenity—that "enhance mental clarity" and "center the spirit." Fuze is $18.50 at www.sephora.com or www.toofaced.com; Elixrstix are $22 at www.eluxury.com.
—Alex Sinclair

WAIT
AN ONLINE
MINUTE...

DON'T HAVE A PERSONAL DIGITAL ASSISTANT YET? (C'MON, IT'S THE LATEST MUST-HAVE!) GO TO WWW.MODERNLUXURY.COM AND SIGN UP FOR THE WEEKLY HOT LIST RIGHT NOW.

MORE IN STORE

If you've made a resolution to be fashionable, a handful of hip new boutiques are here to help. Owners of these cozy, upscale spots are on hand to lend their fashion savvy to shoppers wanting something a little (or a lot) off the beaten path.

GREEN WITH NV For years, Nikki Vigilance held in-home trunk shows. Now, anyone who steps into her inviting new Grant Park boutique, NV-U, can tap into Vigilance's expertise and her selection of labelicious duds, bags and accessories—all priced around $100 or less. She'll help you pair an M Rena knit dress with Karmel & Alden jeans, or demonstrate how a bold, $15 cuff spices up an everyday outfit. Vigilance's friends might be bummed about sharing her, but we're thrilled. 465 Boulevard, 404.624.3737 or www.nv-uboutique.com.

QUE BUENO! Victoria's Red Carpet lives up to its name—and then some. Owner and Madrid native Victoria Patón Pascual rolls out the royal treatment in this Buckhead salon with a glass of Spanish sherry and a selection of exquisite shoes by upscale designers rarely available outside Spain, including Belen Doñate, Enric Navarro and Paco Gil. She also designs the handmade jewelry: chunky rings and necklaces of bone, turquoise and natural gemstones. Prices start at $34 for jewelry and $200 for shoes. 3277 Roswell Road, Suite D, 404.816.0444 or www.victoriasredcarpet.com.

GLOBAL VIBE With an eye-popping, all-red interior and a modern hunting theme, 421 stands out even in eclectic Little Five Points. Owner Sheri Latham stocks limited collections of international designers, including Tokyo's 0044 and Iceland-based Dead, whose skull-themed tees and hoodies have attracted the likes of Scarlett Johansson. Atlanta trendsetters are quickly snapping up Latham's hand-picked denim, jackets and tops, many of which are not available anywhere else in the country. 421 Moreland Ave., 404.688.8114 or www.421atlanta.com. —Blane Bachelor

